
Gigi Hadid's Complete Dating History: A Guide To All The Men She Has Dated

Born to super-rich parents, Gigi Hadid and her siblings were introduced to the world of glitz and glam right from the cradle. Her father, Mohamed Hadid, is a top-notch real estate developer while her mother, Yolanda Hadid (née Van den Herik), is a reality TV star and a former model. Gigi and her sister Bella are currently doing great things in the same profession their mother excelled in and as a supermodel, her life is always in the limelight, particularly, details about her love life and who she is hanging out with at every point in time.

Unlike her BFF Kendall Jenner, Gigi Hadid is not afraid to flaunt her love interests in front of the cameras and on social media to the delight of her numerous fans. While her hook up with former One Direction star Zayn Malik is one of her most publicised relationships, the supermodel has had a few others in the past and may be gunning for more in the future. Below is a guide to all of the model's love interests.

Complete Dating History: A Guide To All The Men Gigi Hadid Has Dated

Notably, for each of her love conquests, Gigi serves relationship goals with her beau if the social media moments, loved-up photos and red carpet appearances are much to go by. Here they come...

Gigi and Patrick

The model's earliest known love interest was with Patrick Uretz who she dated from June to December 2011, barely a year after hooking up.

Cody Simpson - (2013 - 2015)

After almost two years of breaking up and making up, Gigi Hadid and the Australian singer finally called off their on-and-off relationship. Apparently, Cody wasn't comfortable with the publicity that came with their relationship and the paparazzi who followed them everywhere. Nevertheless, he said their split was without any hard feelings, but, they couldn't find a way to balance their busy schedules.

Lewis Hamilton - (2015) – Rumoured

Also in 2015, what is best described as a brief romance ensued between the model and American singer Joe Jonas. They looked so perfect together that Cara Delevingne had to come up with the nickname G.I. Joe for the couple and Gigi seemed to like it as she was once spotted, donning a white tee with the moniker inscribed on it.

Unfortunately, the relationship couldn't survive past November in the same year it started.

Zayn Malik: 2015 to 2018

2015 was really a busy year for the model as far as relationships are concerned. Not long after she ended things with Jonas, Gigi and former One Direction member Zayn Malik became an item and fans loved it. Their relationship was made Instagram official in December. In true Gigi Hadid style, the memorable moments they had together were shared with fans and the two adorable lovebirds didn't try to hide their relationship from the public. They made public appearances together, especially on red carpets where they became fan-favourite.

During their time as a couple, the singer featured Hadid in his music video for "Pillowtalk". They also made a remarkable appearance as a couple on the August 2017 cover of Vogue, making them the third couple to do so on the magazine's cover. The couple also did a Versus (Versace) campaign together.
